Please pray for the funds to continue helping kids like these want to say Thanks to God for using you as a channel of blessing for my life and especially for my daughter's life, giving her the opportunity to study in such prestigious school, and grateful because through this opportunity my daughter is learning about our creator Jesus Christ, the Bible says "Instructs the child in his way and even if he is old he will not depart from it" Kindly and Valery Cardona.

Changing lives and planting seeds

If you ask kids in the States what they saw for themselves as they grew up you would hear "I will go to college and get a job in" Or "when I get out of high school I am going to get a job doing..." I asked the youth of Honduras the same question. I expected to hear something similar from them also.

I asked 10 to 12 year old boys in Honduras what they saw for themselves. Jose a 10 year old said when he got to be 15 or so he would likely work in the farm fields for someone, have kids with a few girls, drink when he had the money and that would be his life from then on.

I asked 8 to 12 year old girls what they saw for themselves and they all replied like Rosie age 10. When she is 13 or 14 she will probably have a baby and take care of it and then have other babies. That is all she saw for herself.

I would like to say that this is an exception; but in Honduras in the areas where we minister, this is the usual and not the exception. With minimal public schools only going to 6th grade and few biblical values taught in the home or at school, this is the normal outlook and cultural perspective. Higher education, even secondary education is out of reach for most children.

We are so grateful in first place with God, and with Melissa and Dean Lowman for the great opportunity that Dayana has to be able to go to Abundant Life Christian School, to learn everyday about God and also to learn English, that for this days is something really important, so when she grows up she would be able to find good opportunities. She is so happy and wants to say Thank you for your support, she loves the school, she loves to ride on the bus, and she enjoys learning every day, hope one day to be able to talk to you in English. She says Thank you Melissa for everything. You are a Blessing to our family.

We are changing lives by sponsoring children

We are working to change this by sponsoring children like Dayana. Her family can barely put food on the table let alone pay for her education. Valerie started kindergarten but her family did not have the funds to continue to first grade. We are sending these children to a bi-lingual Christian school with US accreditation, teachers and calendar. This will not only empower them to get out of poverty and open the world of opportunities for them, but it also teaches and grounds them in Christ.
